A. STRATICHUCK RETURNED FROM BAHAMAS CONFERENCE

Albert Stratichuk, local agent for Case machinery recently returned from a very enjoyable week in Nassau, the capitol of the Bahamas, as a guest of the Case Machinery Co.

A party made up of 100 Case agents, 47 of them from Alberta, the others from Saskatchewan and B.C., left Calgary Jan. 20 by T.C.A. Changing to United Airlines at Minneapolis, they arrived at the beautiful holiday resort in the Atlantic to attend the last week of the World Premiere sponsored by the Case Co. The magnificent Emerald Beach Hotel with all it's facilities had been rented by this famous machine company for the conventions, which had run continuously from Nov. 26, 1958, till Jan. 26. Some 5,000 agents from all over Canada, the United States, Argentina and Mexico, enjoyed an expense paid holiday at this lovely spot off the southern coast of Florida, as a reward for having individual sales of over $15,000 of Case machinery in the past year. While other machine companies had shown a decline in sales, the Case Company sales were 30% over the previous year.

The men were treated to sightseeing tours of the city and surrounding islands, ocean fishing and swimming and in the evenings were entertained by famous musicians and actors. All the latest types of machinery were on display. An estimated one and a half million dollars was spent by the Case Company on these holiday trips for their agents. Mr. Stratichuk says it was a holiday he will long remember. Charlie Malot of Boyle was also in the party.

Band Concert, Dance Held January 31

A Band Concert and Dance held Jan. 31 in the Memorial hall was a big success in every way except that the attendance was small. The band, comprising twelve pieces, and led by bandmaster Edwin Mader, put on a good performance, delighting the audience with its skilful rendering of a wide variety of numbers. Nick Chodin acted very rapidly as master of ceremonies, and members of the Lac la Biche Band acted as ushers. The dance was also poorly attended.

Eight members of the band were overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gargus, and the York Hotel also provided free accommodation for several. The courtesy and co-operation shown by the townspeople in so many ways was much appreciated by the local band executive.

King And Queen Candidates Chosen

BOYLE — The Students' Union has started a new event here, hoping that this will become an annual event.

Valentine King and Queen candidates have been chosen by the school. Garry Derousseau and Allen Wilson are the boy candidates and Diane Smoliarchuk and Suzanne Semeniuk are the girl candidates.

Prizes from the tickets are an electric kettle, carving set, and a travel alarm clock.

The draw will be made on Feb. 13 about 11 p.m.

There are people ready to exercise control over others without being able to control themselves.

Clinic Notice

GRASSLAND — A well baby clinic will be held at Grassland nurses'home on the 2nd and 4th Monday's of each month.

Home And School Association

The regular meeting of the Lac la Biche Home and School Association was held in the Dr. Swift School Jan. 30, with 30 in attendance. Films were shown during the early part of the evening. These were of the Aborgines of Australia and a film entitled "Neighbors" was also shown. D. J. Peterkin, Supervisor of Music, Cultural Activities Branch, Dept. of Economic Affairs, Edmonton, arrived on the evening bus and spoke at the meeting on the organization of bands. Mr. Peterkin advised that any group forming a band should strive to have the instruments owned by the members. He pointed out that the instruments would be better cared for and interest would be more consistent under such an arrangement. Miss Torreson's Grade I room won the banner for attendance.

The February meeting will take the form of a Musical Recital by the pupils of Miss Fond.

Coffee and donuts were served during the evenng.

EDMONTON— Kenneth Douglas Larson has been appointed Managing Editor of the 20 weekly newspapers published here by the Sun Publishing Company Ltd. This was announced recently by the President and Publisher T. W. Pue.

At the same time Mrs. Isabelle McHaffie has been named local news editor. She replaces Mrs. Muriel MacGregor who resigned after four years as news editor. Mrs. McHaffie was a rural reporter for 20 years with the Regina Leader-Post and has had several poems published annually since 1953 in the Alberta Poetry Year Book.

Julius Keehn was the master of ceremonies for the floor show. He also entertained the audience with a number of jokes. Misses May, Diane and Doris Inkster sang several songs as did Larry McEachern. Ronnie Polowich of Lac la Biche also sang a few songs. Richard Sachko and his sister, Dolores, sang a duet.

Music for the dance was supplied by Walt Tichonuk and the Variety Kings.

Town Council Seeks To Take Part In Winter Works Plan

At the January 27th meeting of Town Council a motion was passed authorizing an application for participation in the Winter Works Program of the Federal and Provincial governments.

The total estimated expenditure, which is to include clearing of parks and the construction of a camp kitchen and camp tables, is $6,700. If the plan is approved, the Dominion government will stand half the labor cost and the Provincial government will share the other half equally with the Town. According to the terms of the plan the work must be completed by April 30.

A letter was read from the Canadian Legion offering to give the Town a lease on the lots connected with the Memorial Hall, with the understanding that they be used exclusively for parking purposes in connection with the hall. The Secretary was asked to prepare a lease for a fixed term of years.

A motion was passed authorizing the Town Foreman to have a screen built and installed around the pipe at the Town's water intake in the lake. Although the water is filtered before entering the Town's water mains, small fish have been causing trouble in the check-valves before the water supply reaches the filtering system.

Councillor Mike Maccagno gave a report on two business trips to the city, made by himself and other members of Council to look into the natural gas question.

Present at the meeting were: Councillors Tkachuk, McMillan, Vincent, Maccagno and Jas Hamar, along with Mayor S. Hamar and Secretary F. Creighton, and Town Foreman Hervey Marchildon.

THE NEED FOR COURAGE

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritius Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

PART 2

in the series "How To Get Along With People"

A man who is to succeed in life has great need for courage, and courage of several types. He needs courage to venture and to keep going forward when people oppose him and tell him he is all wrong. He needs courage to go back to his project or invention or writing again and again, when most men would give up and accept defeat. He must learn to stomach disappointments when they come and he must learn not to be floored by them or to remain floored. He must pick himself right up and carry on. He must be like the inventor who, each time his machine develops a "bug" and fails to work, re-designs the defective part that was causing the trouble. He must be like the writer who, each time his book is rejected by a publisher, sits down to re-write the weak chapters. Many of us are a bit handicapped in life because, in a pinch, we haven't the courage to do something that might cause us to be blamed, or might prove unpopular, or might be criticized. Perhaps we do not want to get mixed up with an unpopular cause. Many of us are too afraid of what the neighbors might say. I remember a spry and hearty old grandfather in his eighties who, while living in his daughter's home, would

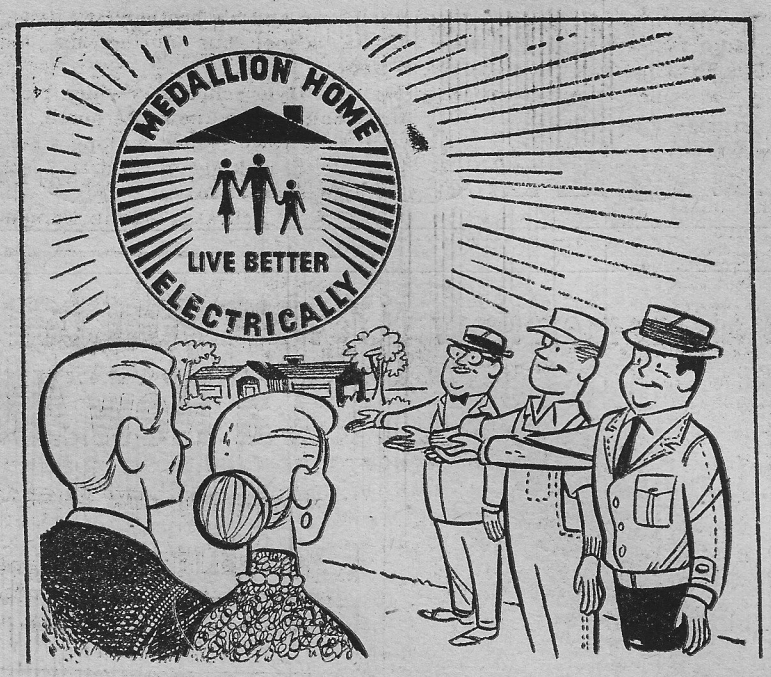
While it takes about two ounces of coal to move one ton of freight one mile, a diesel can accomplish the same work with no more than two teaspoons of oil.



SPECIAL DISPLAYS of electrical merchandise by merchants throughout Alberta help to mark the 112th anniversary of Thomas Edison's birth—and Canadian Electrical Week, Feb. 8 to 14. More and more, Alberta home buyers are becoming more familiar with the Live Better Electrically Medallion displayed on a new home, symbolizing the assurance of the builder, the electric utility and the electrical contractor that the house contains the very best of wiring, lighting and appliances. It is the home buyer's guarantee that the house contains everything needed for the best electrical living—today and tomorrow.

Eskimo Neglect Shocks Pastor

Indians and Eskimos are being neglected, charges Rev. George Tunks of Chatham, Ont., who visited northern settlements on a 4,000 mile air tour.

"They live in tents in 20 below weather," said the pastor of the Evangel Tabernacle.

"Spiritually they receive some help from missions, but there is a tremendous social and economic need. Their living conditions in some cases are deplorable.

15 YEARS FOR KNIFING

OTTAWA (UPI) — Two Ottawa youths who pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the gang slaying of 20-year-old Robert O'Leary last November were sentenced in Ontario Supreme Court. The two youths were originally charged with murder along with three others who were freed last week.

FAST, ACCURATE SEEDING...

SAVE TIME with a JOHN DEERE Surflex Tiller-Seeder

When the weather says "go," make short work of that big seeding job with a John Deere Surflex Tiller-Seeder. Eight, 12-, 16-, and 20-foot sizes are available to fit your needs.

Here's an important advantage with the John Deere Surflex Tiller-Seeder—when it's summer-fallow time, or when you want to disk-in stubble after the harvest, you have a tiller that adjusts easily and penetrates hard ground readily. Anti-friction bearings give you less drag and more working capacity. Stop in and see the Surflex Tiller-Seeder soon.

THE Homemaker

By EDITH WITNEY

Valentine's Day is just around the corner!

For some "sweet talk" why not cook up some special Valentine's for family and friends.

Valentine Raspberry Jam Cake

2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup vegetable oil
2/3 cup buttermilk
2/3 cup raspberry jam
2 eggs
1 cup sugar

Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda, salt and cinnamon. Add the oil, buttermilk, jam and lemon juice; beat until it forms a very smooth batter. In a separate bowl, beat the eggs until thick and foamy. Gradually add the sugar and continue beating until very well blended. Fold this egg and sugar mixture thoroughly into the batter. Pour into 2 wax paper lined 9 inch layer pans (could be heart-shaped if you have them). Bake at 350 degrees until done. Frost with snowy white icing or whipped cream.

To Decorate Valentine Cake:

1. Red Cocoanut—In a bowl dilute a drop of red food coloring with ½ teaspoon of water. Add some shredded cocoanut and toss well until cocoanut is evenly colored.
2. Red Cinnamon Hearts—Decorate your cake with these tiny hearts.

Remember—keep decoration of food simple and appetizing. Any food which gives the impression of having been overtrimmed is distasteful to most people, and so even for the most festive occasion, it is wise to avoid over-emphasizing decorations.

Here is a closing remark which seems very appropriate for this month of "hearts and flowers":

A woman doesn't have to chase
A man, to share his name,
The mousetrap doesn't chase the mouse,
But it gets him just the same.

HERE IS A DESIGN of a new $18,000,000 bridge proposed to span the U.S. ship canal at Sault Ste. Marie. If the bridge is built, it will link Michigan and Ontario, allowing thousands of tourists to cross the border every day. A ferry service now links the twin cities.

Athabasca Survey Pays Dividends

A recent survey of the Athabasca district indicates that installation of ordinary gravity ventilators in poultry and hog barns pays dividends reports A. J. Charnetski, Alberta Livestock Supervisor.

A poultry farmer who had considerable trouble with dampness in his poultry house corrected the problem one hundred per cent by providing more intake area just below the ceiling level with hinged deflectors on the inside to direct the incoming air flow towards the ceiling. He also built a larger outlet to speed up the air change in the building. The air flow in the outlet was controlled by a sliding shutter which could be opened or closed depending upon the outside wind speed.

Another farmer in the same district who, for the past four or five years, had had severe sweating and damp conditions in his piggery corrected his problem in a similar manner. Both these units have functioned very satisfactorily since correction was made in the early winter of 1958.

Many well built piggeries suffer from excessive moisture because of improper ventilation. This dampness may cause heavy losses in new born and weanling pigs because they are apt to contract colds, pneumonia and scours. Attention to the problem of excess moisture could mean a saving of at least one extra pig per litter. Pig producers are, therefore, urged, says Mr. Charnetski, to correct this condition by installing proper ventilation and where necessary to provide some heat to warm up the inside air and thus help to drive off the excess moisture.

Study Complaint Centres

Studies will be made to determine where referral centres will be set up in the province in order that the public may report incidents of cruelty to children.

A. J. Hooke, municipal affairs minister, who is spearheading the organization of citizens, welfare workers and government officials studying the situation, told the group that a referral centre is essential and that "it must be made as simple as possible for the public to report cases of cruelty to the proper authorities."

A special committee appointed to study the need for a society for prevention of cruelty to children reported that present services give children adequate protection.

The meeting agreed that some form of continuous publicity should be arranged so that the public would become more fully aware of existing services.

A subcommittee will report back in a month as to its findings. It was instructed to determine whether special information, complaint and referral centres will be set up, or whether some existing agencies will be designated as centres in the cities. It was also asked to suggest a name for the centres which would convey quickly to the public the purpose they are designed to serve.

Ray Hagen, deputy minister of welfare, who heads the full group as well as the subcommittee, has set Feb. 28 as the tentative date for the next meeting.

Hylo Hockey Team Has New Goalie

HYLO — Bill Stasiewich of Hylo, who came home for Christmas to work in the bush, is new hope as goalie for the Hylo hockey team. Bill, who is known as "Curly", has played goal for an Edmonton team in 1957. He has averaged out to 18 wins and 6 losses. Hylo players who had no practise so far, are hoping for a big lead in hockey for this coming year. "Curly", who almost had a shut out against Plamondon, is trying hard to beat his 1957 record of three shut outs.

Bill, who is 19 years of age and is engaged to a beautiful brown-eyed brunette from Edmonton, says he will be moving back to the city in May to continue working for the city Parks Dept. His girl friend will be visiting him for a week on Valentine's Day at Lac la Biche.

He is a big admirer of hockey, and we think this boy deserves a good deal of credit.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation and thanks for the help and sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved father.

Rangers, Bruins Top Bantam League

In the Lac la Biche Bantam Hockey League two teams were tied for first place as the schedule reached the half-way mark. On top were Kenny Nykolaichuk's Rangers with five victories, a loss and two ties, and Dee Graham's Bruins with six victories and two losses.

One of the secrets of the Bruin's success was top goalie Willi Pruden who has allowed only three goals in eight games while racking up six shut-outs. The Bruins' high scoring line of Clarence Tom, Milton Maskalyk and Dee Graham has accounted for all 24 of their team's goals.

Another goalie helping to keep his team on top is Ranger's Brian Rizzoli, sometimes known as "the cucumber' (because of his coolness). The Ranger forward line of Phillip Coutney, Kenny Nykolaichuk and Jim Boucher, while one of the smaller lines in the league, is also one of the most determined.

Secretary of the league, the Rev. R. S. H. Greene, reports a good season with many new boys learning the game quickly. Some of the newcomers include Pat Vincent, Michel Maccagno, Dale Nykolaichuk and Christopher Biollo. Two of the hardest working players in the league, boys who fight for the puck every inch of the way, are also two of the tiniest. With a combined weight of about 80 lbs., it is hard to beat Kamel Abougoush and Pat Mriad.

COURAGE

have loved to mow the lawn, wash the car, and in winter shovel snow off the walks. It would have made him happy to be doing something that would have made him feel that he was a member of the family and still of some use.

But his daughter put her foot down and would never let him do any work. Why? Because she was afraid the neighbors would say, "Just look at that poor old man, forced in his old age to work like a dog for his keep; you'd think his well-to-do daughter could afford to hire a boy to do these chores!"

CONSPICUOUS AND UNCOMFORTABLE

Too few of us dare diverge much from the way of life of those about us. That would make us feel conspicuous and uncomfortable.

I like to see a man who has the courage to stand up and, perhaps to his detriment let himself be counted in favor of some unpopular cause. Similarly, I like to see aman come out against some popular practice which he can see is merely faddish. The world needs a lot of people like that.

Too many of us accept the erratic but popular fads of the day. We do this without really enjoying them or understanding them.

If our friends are buying expressionistic paintings that, so far as we can see, are just as understandable when hung upside-down, we are likely to buy them. If people are going in for weird and uncomfortable ultra-modern furniture, we may buy some, even though we still love the more traditional kind. If our friends are being psychoanalyzed, we go and lie on a couch several days a week.

MAY NOT LIKE THEM

The facts that we may dislike modern art and ultra-modern furniture and do not need to be psychoanalyzed are not enough to hold us back.

As I look around, I often wonder at things many of us do to be just like everyone else, or to do that which we think is expected of us, especially if we are to be "somebody." Think of the man who sits through a lengthy opera. bored most of the time, just to please his wife who, perhaps, is mainly concerned with being seen with the smart set.

While we men and women admire the man who has the courage to fight for his convictions, we can also see sometimes that a particular man was more mulish, stubborn unthinking or foolish than courageous when he refused to conform to certain of the minor customs of unwritten laws of the group in which he worked.

I am thinking now of an able and idealistic man who resigned his professorship in a university because his dean had asked him not to attack in public a large and influential group of alumni who, if angered would almost certainly withdraw their support from the college.

GREATER ADVANTAGES

His friends sympathized with the man's desire for "academic freedom" but thought it unfair of him to embarrass his group and get them into trouble. It seemed foolish of him to give up his position, with his laboratories and his opportunity to carry on research. To his friends, these great advantages seemed to be of much greater value than any pleasure he might derive from the freedom he craved. But he could not compromise, and so he resigned; and with this he ended his days of usefulness.

Young people, of course, are especially desirous of doing what they please. They don't want any suggestions from their elders; they want, as soon as possible, to free themselves from the customs and beliefs of the community in which they live; and they want to thumb their nose at some of the conventions.

I'll never forget the rebellious girl of 18 who was once brought to me by her mother. The two had been arguing so often and so bitterly over the girl's refusal to conform to the usual disciplines of life that both were on the edge of a nervous breakdown. When the mother was out of the room, the girl said to me, "You just watch me; soon when I come of age, I'm going to do exactly as I please!"

WON'T "BELONG"

This statement interested me greatly and made me think. I said, "Even when you are of age, I doubt if you will be able to do everything exactly as you please. If you outrage the several Mrs. Grundys in your town they may be able to make it so unpleasant for you that you'll suffer; you may not have the strength to stand up against their combined disapproval. You just won't 'belong.'"

As I went on to say, I was of age, but still I did not feel that I could always do exactly as I pleased. Where I worked. I had to conform to a number of unwritten laws. If I didn't I'd soon be unhappy; I would be embroiled with my fellow workers; I would not be able to work comfortably with them, and I might even be asked to leave.

Similarly, at home I thought it best to avoid donig a number of unconventional things that would annoy my wife. Also, in the community, I thought it wise to conform to the usual customs and conventions. If I didn't, I might find myself in the position of the old man of Thermopylae:

"Who never did anything
properly,
But they said, "If you choose
To boil eggs in your shoes,
You cannot remain in Thermopylae."

Many organizations take advantage of the offer and present their views to members of Cabinet.
